

love stories

Eleven real-life stories made better by the power of love.

Catholic Charities Dallas serves nine North Texas counties. The strengths of each of our programs are as diverse as the populations we serve.

Every day, we help our community's most vulnerable by taking on the effects of poverty and helping all those in crisis move toward a better life. If we can't help, we know who can.

Pass it on.

For more than 128 years, Catholic Charities Dallas has been a leader in social services in our community. Today, we help more than 50,000 individuals per year on their path to stability and self-sufficiency through programs in Children's Services, Educational Services, Empowerment Services, and Housing for the Homeless. In these diverse areas, we deliver education programs and employment services, financial literacy, food and meals, foster care and children's shelter, immigration legal services, refugee resettlement, pregnancy counseling, adoption services, parenting classes, and disaster relief and preparedness.

For us, successfully addressing the root cause of poverty means engaging the entire community's energy, resources, and compassion. Only then can we truly help all those in need move toward a better life.

Housing Services

Outgoing and eager to work, Eugene’s job search was hindered by one critical factor: homelessness. Imagine hunting for employment without a phone. Imagine working a full shift then rushing to find rest at a shelter where each day, beds are assigned on a first-come, first-served basis. Imagine doing all that as a senior. Eugene was determined but needed a plan. When Metro Dallas Homeless Alliance referred him to Catholic Charities Rapid Rehousing Program, Eugene began to have hope. He applied for a home at St. Jude Center, our permanent housing community that provides seniors with full-immersion support. For Eugene, that has included financial counseling, onsite job fairs and regular home check-ins with a case manager. Today, he’s employed full-time, earning above minimum wage and looking forward to a future of self-reliant living.

“ It takes a community to build a community. St. Jude Center is a collaborative network that includes Catholic Housing Initiative, CitySquare, Metrocare, Veterans Administration, and Metro Dallas Homeless Alliance. ”

Immigration Legal Services

Because abuse can take on many forms – physical, emotional, verbal – victims may need many resources. That's what Ana has found at Catholic Charities Dallas. What she may not have expected was a legal services team who could help Ana understand her rights as an immigrant. She didn't need to live in fear of an abusive husband who used his own legal status to intimidate her, threaten to take their children or report her to immigration authorities. She could begin and stick to a plan for separation. Our legal services team worked with Ana to initiate the process of filing a VAWA petition that will allow Ana to seek permanent resident status without her husband's knowledge. She's free now to take advantage of other programs at Catholic Charities, including financial assistance. She's free to dream of a future without fear.

“The goal of our Immigration Legal Services program is to assist immigrants in need through the complex immigration process. Our team of attorneys and case managers are ready to serve our clients and the community. We believe that a prepared and educated community is a stronger community.”

Senior Services

Meet Pablo, a one-man welcoming committee at the Brady Senior Program.

He can be seen here three times each week, taking part in any number of activities. With his upbeat personality and unwavering desire to help, Pablo has been known to strike up conversations with strangers on the bus and bring them to the center that same day. That's a win-win for everyone, forging more friendships and creating more opportunities for the Brady Senior Program to serve our older clients like Pablo. At our center, we foster seniors' health and engagement with weekday classes and social activities. We bolster both mind and body with nutritious meals. If needed, we help guide seniors to additional services. We can even connect seniors to unique events and opportunities – including a job fair where one of Pablo's new friends just happened to get hired on the spot.

“ Pablo expresses Catholic Charities values daily at Brady Senior Program. He welcomes other guests with a smile, assists peers with translation or bingo, and encourages others to live and work together with respect, joy, and grace. ”

Parenting, Pregnancy & Adoption Services

The decision to place a child for adoption is a difficult one. When Ashley chose to pursue an adoption plan for the baby she was expecting, she turned to our Parenting, Pregnancy & Adoption Services. She worked with a Birth Parent Counselor to explore options, including reviewing profiles of potential adoptive families. With the help of our team, Ashley was able to meet her selected family, forming an instant bond that has become a source of strength for all. Catholic Charities Dallas is dedicated to supporting birth mothers like Ashley on this journey. For those who choose adoption, they're assisted throughout pregnancy and after with counseling and support groups. If there's a change, we help these mothers with parenting classes and baby items. It's a full-spectrum approach that gives birth mothers the tools they need to build a bright future for their children and for themselves.

“Children are a gift from God and we help our birth parents find the best family to whom they bestow their precious gift.”

Educational Services

Readers are leaders – it’s an old saying that still proves true, especially for a bright-eyed fourth-grader named Eliceo. Enrolled in the after-school program at Cardinal Farrell Community Center, Eliceo initially struggled with English-based language lessons. Our educators, sensitive to challenges faced by dual-language students like Eliceo, were prepared. Our literacy intervention program combines tutoring, computer interaction and classroom activities to boost academic performance during the crucial years of K-3 and well beyond. Tutoring in particular has helped Eliceo. He now picks up books on his own, reading them cover to cover with relative ease. His participation in our after-school program has brought real results: improved reading scores, less reliance on translation and the emergence of a friendly, infectious classroom leader.

“ Our Educational Services provide high quality preschool, after school and adult education classes year round to low-income families and those most in need. ”

Children's Services

Of the tens of thousands of people we serve every year, none are more vulnerable than children. They may face homelessness. They may be unable to return to their families. Or, as in the case of Anisa, they may be refugees escaping a violent homeland that claimed the lives of their parents. Our team is dedicated to giving all of these children a nurturing environment where they can thrive. Anisa's path started with International Foster Care and a new home with a local family. And he flourished. His hard work in both academics and athletics earned him a college soccer scholarship. He's now part of Supervised Independent Living, our program that mentors youths like Anisa as they enter adulthood. Preparing for university life and excited about the future, Anisa now regularly greets his case manager with a huge smile and the news that "Everything is goood!"

“ There is perhaps no greater feeling than helping a child find a loving, caring environment with a family that will impact the child's life. ”

Food Services & Pantries

When Lisbet first came to Catholic Charities Dallas, she found more than food assistance.

She discovered a welcoming atmosphere that surrounded her with support and compassion – instant relief for a mother who was new to the area and facing financial challenges. Our Food Services team maintains a network of neighborhood pantries so Lisbet could depend on us for complete, balanced groceries to fill her cabinet and feed her children. Maybe just as important, her visit led to other programs offering long-term help. Lisbet enrolled in our financial counseling classes. She is now learning to manage family finances, build credit and work towards a goal of owning her own business. Partnering with Food Services was one piece of the puzzle, the start of a promising journey. How promising? Lisbet is now one of our volunteers, assisting new visitors as they arrive at Catholic Charities Dallas.

“ We help those we serve to begin to break the cycle of poverty by providing the most basic of human needs – food. ”

Financial Stability & Career Services

You hear it often from our counselors. We do more than solve problems; we seek to change lives.

The starting point for most of our clients is building financial self-sufficiency, a process that can encompass career training, language classes and financial coaching. With Abul, the journey was, in some ways, longer. When we met Abul, he was new to the United States and eager to partner with a case manager. Working with our team to adjust to a new culture and establish a career plan, Abul secured a job in only five weeks. When his new employer needed additional staff, Abul helped two of his friends find positions at the same company. Six months later, Abul had saved enough to purchase a car. Still, he has more goals. He's now pursuing a commercial driver license along with the higher earning potential that will bring long-lasting stability to him and his family.

“ He told me he was not fluent in English, knew little about the culture and wanted to become independent. Financial stability would be the key to achieving his dream. At Catholic Charities Dallas, he found the resources to make his dream a reality. ”

Disaster Preparedness & Relief Services

The video was unforgettable: a crane toppling over in severe winds and crashing into a Dallas apartment building.

For Roslyn and her son, that moment changed their entire world. The deadly collapse destroyed their apartment along with all their possessions. Our team responded with immediate help. We provided shelter in a hotel and began preparing for Roslyn's long-term recovery. Our trained case managers take a one-on-one approach to support. We work with city officials and charities to connect clients like Roslyn to available services. We even help navigate insurance matters, complicated in this case when residents could not return to their homes to assess damage or recover belongings. For Roslyn, our team found a new home and furnishings so she and her son could look forward, not back. "Please keep me in your prayers," Roslyn tells us. "I could not have managed without your support."

“ At Catholic Charities Dallas, we remain with survivors on their journey from the shock of a disaster to a new day of renewal. ”

Refugee Services

“I was pleased to go to this beautiful country as an immigrant.” Elizabeth arrived from Cameroon eager to build a new life. She had secured the needed documents to begin work. Her path to self-sufficiency seemed clear. But after a few setbacks, she needed a comprehensive support network. Our Refugee Services team became, in Elizabeth’s own words, “like a family” to her. We were able to supply bus passes so Elizabeth could attend classes. We helped locate an apartment and found employment for her within walking distance. Our team is trained in all aspects of refugee resettlement, from family assistance to specialized programs for refugees who, like Elizabeth, are 60 years of age or older. Elizabeth still benefits from encouragement and periodic assistance, and we continue to provide just that, proving that challenges big and small won’t hold her back.

“ We appreciate the opportunities this country has given us, and are so filled with gratitude for the services we received from Catholic Charities Dallas. ”

Volunteer Profile

Robin and Gary Yesavage

Gary Yesavage may have retired three years ago, but he and his wife Robin are as busy as ever. Active in the Dallas Stars Foundation and volunteers with ManeGait Therapeutic Horsemanship in Prosper, they also serve as Eucharistic Ministers at Holy Family Quasi-Parish, their church in Van Alstyne.

Their work with Catholic Charities Dallas began 18 months ago. Having relocated to the area to be near their grandchildren, Gary and Robin were searching for another way to give back. They found it at the Jan Pruitt Community Food Pantry in Lancaster. Here, Robin assists clients as they locate needed groceries, while Gary helps stock shelves. Their drive to Lancaster can take over an hour and a half, but they are enthusiastic about the work. "Although they are tiring days," Gary has said, "we find them very rewarding."

Next for Gary and Robin Yesavage? They're looking forward to additional training so they can help at the mobile food pantry. At Catholic Charities Dallas, we've found that this simple, heartfelt dedication is what defines our team of volunteers. Or as Gary told us recently, "There is always something you can do to help others."

Catholic Charities Dallas
Annual Report

Dear friends

Catholic Charities Dallas has completed another amazing year of service to our nine-county community. This year, we adopted the theme of “love stories” for our annual report to help communicate the real and lasting relationships, impact and outcomes that reflect the embodiment of CCD’s mission, vision and purpose.

Beyond the many love stories contained within is the bigger story of our community of staff, volunteers, donors, partners, collaborators and supporters – a growing team dedicated to seeing every aspect of our work improve. The outcome of that collective effort enabled CCD to serve over 50,000 clients last year alone, an increase of over 32% compared to the prior year. Efficiency grew as well as we reduced the administrative load by an additional 1.2% while positioning ourselves to reach 90% flow-through of donations to those in need for the coming year.

While these love stories speak to the missions you are familiar with, we are also very proud to highlight the adoption of the new Children Services Missions. These missions serve unaccompanied refugee minors by moving them into CCD administrated foster care as well as other unaccompanied minors in the transitional shelter at St. Mary’s Center.

Another high point for this past year was the expansion of our focus on hunger. With the collaboration of North Texas Food Bank, The Catholic Foundation and many private donors we took on the task of initiating a true “mobile pantry” outreach; commissioning two custom refrigerated trucks that will enable CCD to serve our entire diocese and region. Millions more meals will be provided in the actual food deserts where they are needed most due to this exciting new venture.

The Board’s strategic focus on Homelessness, Education and Hunger continues to guide our long range planning. Additional new initiatives to significantly expand in these key areas are underway while we continue to remain agile and capable in serving the multitude of current needs we encounter every day.

Our focus is clear, we are motivated and CCD is positioned to remain a vital force in addressing poverty in our communities. We are honored to share these love stories and report our optimism for the future. Thanks to all that make our work possible and we invite all to please join us on our journey.

Philanthropic Spotlight

Susan and Patrick Brosnahan share their time, talent, and treasure

This story of love, faith and service begins in 1977 in New Orleans, where Pat and Susan first met. “For our first real date, we attended mass together at St. Louis Cathedral,” Susan remembers. “We knew we had a special beginning when we walked out of church to a surprising snowfall!”

Now as long-time North Texas residents, the Brosnahans are Catholic Charities donors,

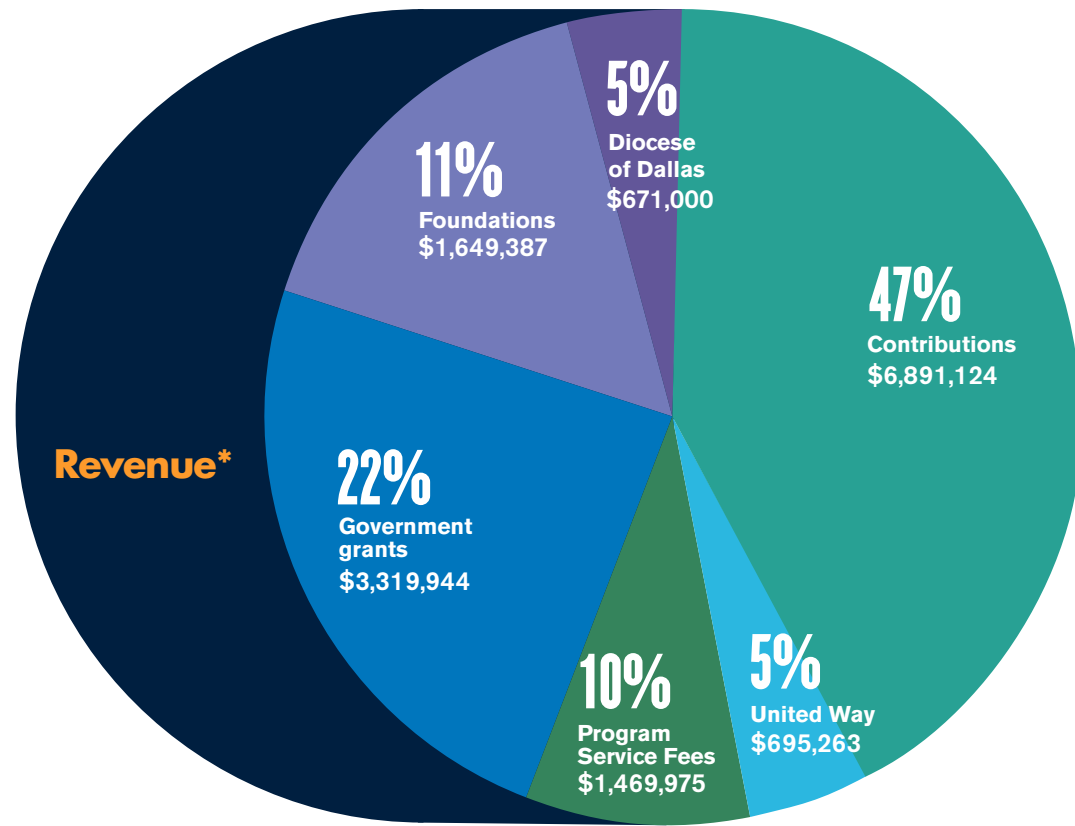

Pat continues, in Matthew 25:40 Jesus says, Amen, I say to you, whatever you did for one of the least of your brothers you did it for me. “Catholic Charities is there daily fulfilling this command to care for those most in need.”

Gala host committee members and supporters of St. Jude Center. At St. Jude, they serve a monthly meal for the 104 residents and generously created the “Garden of the Good Shepherd,” a welcoming outdoor space and garden. Susan, who loves the outdoors, felt that it was important to provide the residents, who had been formerly on the streets of Dallas, with a special outdoor area. Susan said “our hope is that the Garden would be a special space providing a place which will inspire a sense of peace and closeness to God’s creation.”

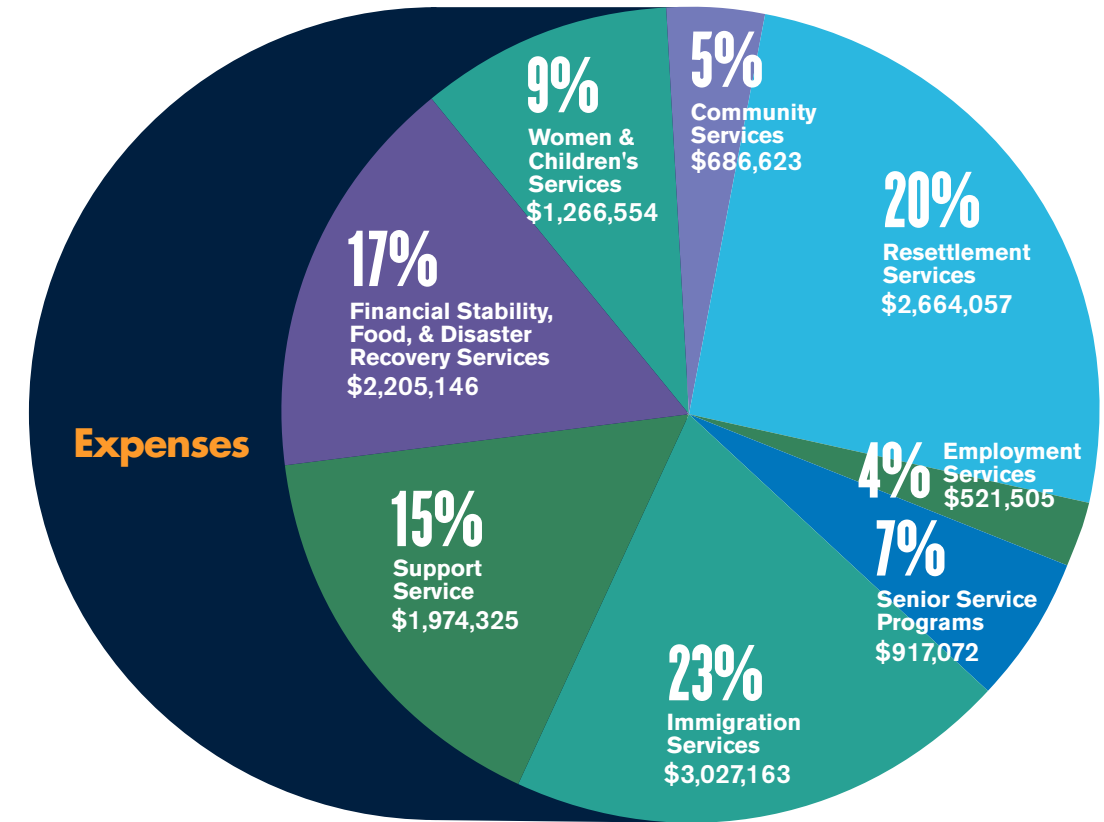

As longtime parishioners at St. Rita and currently Plano’s Prince of Peace, Pat and Susan, parents of five children and 18 grandchildren, have always made family and service to others their priority. In addition to their work at St. Jude, they have been involved in the Engaged Couples ministry, teaching CCD and coordinating bible studies. Pat is a board member of Catholic Charities and has served on the board of City House as well as various committees at Prince of Peace. Their story of love, faith and service continues. “Our Catholic faith has been a large part of our life together. By supporting Catholic Charities, we know that those in need will have a place to turn – they are not alone in their struggles.”
